

Game Specifics and Goals

- The game models 5 departments within one company
- Due to geographic dispersal, there are limitations on communication between the departments
- The team must fulfill a purchase order and ship the appropriate freight
- To fulfill the order, the team must plan the optimum route and then lay out the route on the game field
- To do this, the department employees have to promote ideas within the company as part of their functional tasks - they must also introduce innovations
- The players confront failures of communication, lost information, cross functional resistance, and decisions that are never made
- The success of freight deliver and fulfilled order relies on how well the team works together!
- 4-8 hours of simulated play
- 12-250 people can participate in the simulation
- The simulation can be ordered as a staged event, or supplied for in-house use by the Client
